BILL EATON SAYS, SAYS HE,

CLEVELAND IS THE MAN FOR ME.

He will burst the G. O. P. And knock the Spots Out of James G. B. And send the Party Out to Sea--By Way of the River Called Saline--And Niblack, Who is Called Billie--Will be the next man to go to Sea--Or Mr. Name Not, Bill, D. Sec.

As one of THE CHIEF was passing through the Capitol this morning he met "Old Bill Eaton," of Connecticut. Some people, on account of their admiration for Mr. Eaton, call him "Old Bill Eaton," others call him "Nutmeg Bill," and others call him Governor and others Senator Eaton. He is the Andrew Jackson of today's Democracy. He has opinions and never fails to express them when the occasion seems to require it.

THE CHIEF met him, Mr. Eaton what he thought of the situation.

Mr. Eaton, in the following language: "I am pleased with the situation. The outlook for the Democracy is bright. The country has declined to be a standard bearer it becomes the duty of the Democracy to select the next best man. We will meet the requirements of ability, rectitude and availability. It will not do to put forward a man whose reputation is in any way tarnished by any fraud or who is tainted with any of the vile practices so common among what we are nowadays pleased to call politicians."

A Venemous Slay at Blaine.

"One such man in the campaign is sufficient to ruin the Republic," nominating Mr. Blaine present to the country a candidate who stands far excellence as the representative of depraved politics. Prior to Blaine's nomination a large portion of the Democratic party, nominating ex-Senator Joseph E. McDonald, of Indiana, as the man in whom were combined the most elements of success. But as time has rolled by and changes in the political aspect of affairs have taken place.

Mr. McDonald Has Been Relegated to the Rear

as not meeting the requirements of the situation, and the party turns to another name not unknown nor unfamed. That man is Grover Cleveland, of New York. The Republicans, in nominating Blaine, have estranged their best and most intelligent members, who now look elsewhere for a suitable candidate to whom they may give their support. In Governor Cleveland they would find such a man. As Governor he has made a reputation second only to Mr. Tilden.

A Strong Indorsement of Cleveland.

"His administration is and has been firm, just and pure. He has honestly and faithfully guarded the interests of his constituents, and has introduced reforms that others dared not attempt. Without ostentation he has performed his duties in a manner that would produce good to his people regardless of what the consequences might be to himself."

Cleveland Can Carry New York.

"Governor, can he carry New York?" "Yes, sir. He will, I predict, if he is nominated, carry New York by 100,000 majority."

"How about your State?" "He will carry my State by at least 6,000 majority. He has carried New Jersey, Nevada, California, Indiana, the 'Solid South' and I believe, Ohio."

"Who do you think is the best man to help him win the race?" "The man who is the best man to help him win the race."

A Platform for Second Place.

"Steer clear of entangling alliances and nominate for Vice-President W. E. Niblack, of Indiana. He is the best man in the party, and one of the ablest jurists as well as statesmen in the United States. Not a spot or blemish sullies the escutcheon of his life. His public life has been as spotless as the snow and his private life has been as charming as any man in all this land."

What about the platform, Governor?

"We want a platform in keeping with the day and times in which we live--a platform broad enough for every honest man in America to stand on. We want a platform the language of which will be so plain that the humblest laborer in the country can when he reads it understand it."

"What about a tariff plank?" "There is not a Democrat in the United States but wants our tariff law revised. We want reform in the tariff. There is no difference among us on that question. We differ only as to the mode and time. I want the tariff reformed, but I want to go about it when there is a chance to reform it. I want our platform to deal with that question as with all others--openly, freely and frankly."

There is not a Democrat in the United States but wants our tariff law revised.

We want reform in the tariff.

There is no difference among us on that question.

We differ only as to the mode and time.

I want the tariff reformed, but I want to go about it when there is a chance to reform it.

I want our platform to deal with that question as with all others--openly, freely and frankly.

PROPHET BYRNE PROPHECIES,

And Says Cleveland Will Be Nominated by the Democrats, and Blaine Will Have a Walkover.

"Who will the Democrats nominate?" asked THE CHIEF reporter to-day of Representative Tom Byrne, of Pennsylvania.

"Cleveland and Morrison, or Cleveland and some soldier like Morrison."

"How is the fact, which is almost assured, that Cleveland will not go into the convention with all the New York delegates at his back to be overcome?"

Cleveland's Friends Will Stand Together.

When the New York delegation gets to Chicago and finds other States like Minnesota, Iowa, New Jersey, &c., favorable to Cleveland they will soon fall into line. The friends of Cleveland will think, like those of Blaine, stand together. The history of such tactics in conventions is that they gain accessions to the man in whose favor they are used."

"Could Blaine defeat Cleveland?"

"Of course he could. The Republicans this year can defeat any one. It makes no difference to them who may be put up by the Democrats. We will have a walk-over. The Democrats feel it in their bones that they are already beaten. They do not act as if they had much hope."

Why He Predicts Democratic Defeat.

"Upon what grounds do you predict Democratic defeat so assuredly?"

"On the existence of so many differences in their party. The Democrats are in a worse condition now than they were before. Why, just look at it. The men in favor of a tariff for incidental protection have taken a more decided stand this season than ever before. The tariff reformers, led by Mr. Morrison and Mr. Caldwell, have taken by far a more advanced position than they ever did. These are two elements in the party which Cannot Be Reconciled.

"The Democrats at Chicago cannot get up a platform upon which both of them can stand. They cannot get up a platform and a ticket to which both those elements will stick. For these and other reasons I confidently predict that Blaine will have a walkover."

BLAINE IN MASSACHUSETTS.

What the Republican Candidate Thinks of His Own Prospects.

Representative Miliken, of Maine, returned to the city this morning from his home. When asked what he thought about things in Massachusetts, he said that in his opinion Massachusetts would go in favor of Blaine. He thinks that if Butler should receive the Democratic nomination, but if Butler should run on one of all of the present nominations the Butler Republicans would vote for Blaine.

What Blaine Thinks About Massachusetts.

"Did you see Mr. Blaine at Augusta?" asked the reporter.

"I did. He is feeling very well and is confident that he will be elected. He told me a little about what he thought of Massachusetts. He said that in his opinion Massachusetts would be for him. He thinks that Massachusetts is not yet ready for a free-trade President. She has to want to have the tariff cut down. Or, as Mr. Blaine said, she has too much grass land to want to start a prairie fire."

THE SARATOGA CONVENTION.

The Class Gathering for the Contest to-morrow--What Flower and Cleveland Men Say.

SARATOGA, N. Y., June 17.--The delegates to the Democratic State Convention began to arrive yesterday, and many came by the night train. There is a large number of lookers-on here, and to-day promises to see the village crowded with politicians.

The Flower party are already here in great strength, their headquarters being at the United States Hotel. Mr. Flower is on the ground in person.

Ex-Governor Walker is also here and says that Cleveland is the man for the occasion.

Both the Cleveland and Flower partisans present an array of figures, showing the growth of each candidate's popularity, and a great deal of building is going on in this way.

One of Mr. Flower's managers from Watertown said this morning:

"If we see that we have not a majority in the convention, we shall go solidly for Cleveland."

The delegates of many districts that the Flower wing had counted upon are now on the ground, and disclaim any such instructions. It is a great many of the delegates from local conventions have been highly colored in favor of Flower, when, in fact, they are for Cleveland.

The Irving Hall Democratic card is tacked up in the office of Congress Hall, and a few of the faithful are present.

At 11:30 a. m. it is rumored that a compromise will be effected between the two factions.

Going to the Convention.

New York, June 17.--About forty Democrats, the largest half of the Irving Hall contingent at the State Convention, left for Saratoga for Saratoga on the regular express train on the New York Central Road.

At 5:00 of the Pennsylvania Hall contingent, headed by John Kelly, also left for Saratoga in a special train of five parlor and five dining cars, and many came by the night train. The County Democratic delegation, numbering about 400, left on a special train on the West Shore Road.

THE GIRL LOVED LEWIS

And Gave Him the Means of Killing His Rival--An Arkansas Scene.

MOT SPRINGS, ARK., June 17.--Two young men named Lem Deshaw and Peter Lewis attended the Baptist Church of a settlement six miles from here on "Sunday with the avowed purpose of taking home the minister's young daughter, and when Lewis moved from his own into the minister's family, paw while Lewis was in progress, Deshaw drew his revolver and opened fire upon him.

Lewis returned the fire, and the congregation made rapid exit by way of doors and windows. Neither was hurt, and both being unarmed, they agreed to go into the woods and fight it out there. Yesterday they were about to proceed to the woods the girl, who was the object of the fight, declared that she would not be a party to the fight, and was granted.

While the party were awaiting the result of the fight a pistol shot was heard from the direction of the scene of conflict. The crowd hurried to the spot and found Deshaw lying on the ground dying from a shot through the lungs. He said he was getting the better of Lewis when the latter drew a dagger from his pocket and stabbed him. The girl had placed the weapon there during her brief conference with Lewis, just before the fight. Lewis may be lynched.

The Hydrophobic Question.

New York, June 17.--In reply to an inquiry by a member of the American Public Health Association, M. Pasteur, the celebrated French scientist, has declared a letter stating that his experiments have doubtless been misunderstood by the public, and that while he has proved that dogs can be made proof against hydrophobia by inoculation with the virus of hydrophobia in a particular way it is not possible to transmit the virus to any great distance, and it is not yet possible to protect man against hydrophobia by inoculation.

THEY FOUGHT THEIR BATTLE OUT.

Brown and Ingalls Would Not Keep Cool and Returned to the Fry To-day--A Good Deal of Sharp Language Flung Backward and Forward and the Reader Must Judge Who Got the Best of It--The Resolution to Expunge the Offensive Words Withdrawn.

Mr. Ingalls was early in the Senate this morning. He was chafed good-humoredly by his colleagues on the episode of yesterday. He seemed to be in good trim for another bout.

Mr. Brown was also in his seat. He had with him a roll of manuscript, which he was suspected bore his promised reply to the Kansas Senator. He was cool and collected, and seemed to derive some satisfaction from a close perusal of the Congressional Record, containing a full report of yesterday's tilt.

An Expectant Senate.

Mr. Brown rose to a question of privilege as soon as the Journal was read. He sent the clerk to the clerk's desk and had certain marked passages read. Senators on both sides were eagerly attentive. The galleries were full, and a number of Representatives were on the floor.

Mr. Brown Says He Will Keep Within
